

How to Help a Grieving Friend

Listen without judgement.
Let them repeat over and over their fears or anger.

Accept what they have to say. Their feelings are normal. You don't have to fix their grief or cheer them up.

Make contact on special days e.g. anniversaries, Christmas and especially after 3, 6 and 9 months to ask how you can help.

Allow crying and hugs.
Silence is okay.

Avoid clichés e.g. "he's out of his suffering now, you have to get on with your life."

How to Help a Grieving Child

Tell them their feelings are normal, e.g. scared or angry.

Answer questions honestly and in simple words.

Reassure the child that they did not cause the loss.

Encourage drawings or writing about what happened.

Say and show - "It's ok to cry".

Give lots of hugs and try to maintain their routine.
